

I believe we must protect free and fair media access in order to have a vital democracy. Isn't building a democracy the supposed reason we are in Iraq? Would we let them have such a one-sided media slant, or would we accuse them of totalitarian control of the broadcasting system? Would the Sinclair Broadcasting Corporation show Michael Moore's "Fahrenheit 9/11" during primetime less than two weeks before the election? It is a slippery slope we are on once basic freedoms start being chipped away at. Be careful- be very, very careful.
